

is bad for you.

Reece quickly puts the papers away and unfolds his paper.

[INSERT]

STUDENT 1

A printout of anti drug facts from the internet.

REECE (CONT'D)

One. Kids and teens who try alcohol and drugs are more likely to abuse substances as an adult. Two. You might think marijuana is harmless, but it can lead to changes in mood/

STUDENTS

Hell yeah!

The kids giggle.

Reece looks up from the paper. The students are completely zoned out. Reece looks at the paper again, then crumples it up and throws it aside.

REECE (CONT'D)

It's easy for you to not pay attention, huh? You don't think this is relevant to you, but in 10 years, half of you will be addicted to something. You, there, in the hoodie. You'll definitely be a pothead, probably a college drop out. You, up front, you're probably gonna get addicted to pills. It's always the type A ones.

STUDENTS

The students giggle and nudge the students that Reece called out.

STUDENT 1

Do me next!

SAMANTHA

Why don't we get back on track/

REECE

Oh, you've got alcoholic written all over you. The student athlete to binge-drinking pipeline may as well be a highway.

The students howl in delight. Student 1 receives multiple high fives from the students around them.

SAMANTHA

Reece! Enough.
